The IDSL Group brings together specialist manufacturing and compliance businesses, Integrated Doorsets, FDISUK, Hartland Fire, and Fire Doors Rite, to deliver complete fire-door and passive-fire protection solutions. Through sustained investment, the Group operates three state-of-the-art manufacturing plants in the East Midlands, providing over 135,000 sq. ft of modern production space. These facilities feature advanced CNC machining, precision through-feed cutting, robotic surface coating, and the latest post-forming technology, enabling high-quality manufacture at scale with capacity exceeding 1,000 doorsets per week.

Integrated Doorsets supports major national and regional contractors across the UK and beyond, while FDISUK, Hartland Fire, and Fire Doors Rite deliver industry-leading inspection, maintenance, repair, installation, and compliance services across healthcare, education, residential, defence, and wider public-sector environments. Together they provide end-to-end lifecycle assurance backed by extensive fire-test evidence and trusted compliance processes.

The Group continues to grow responsibly, including the installation of over 2,300 solar panels as part of its PAS 2060-aligned carbon-reduction plan. Unified as a single-source provider of doorsets, ironmongery, and compliance services, our mission is simple: to deliver ultimate reliability through a culture of excellence.
